King David, we think, admitted on one occusion having, in his haste, made a sweeping statement, which was not quite correct. about the untruthfolness of men. Many other less distinguished men since old David's days have erred in their haste, and we must confess being of the number. In a leading article in Saturday's issue we incidentally remarked :- Banks are quoted two or three coints below their "intrinsio" value.' The contrary is the case. The par value is of course $125. Mesara Stokes & Young, in their share list, give the intrinsic value as $201. The closing quotation on Saturday was $187 % premium, which represents a value of something like 8350. This of course shows all the more clearly what we contended, namely that the intrinsic value of shares of which a good deal was said during the recent share trial, -although it may be an important thing for investors to bear in mind, generally differs widely from the market value.

Ws would again remind our readers of the entertainments to be given this week by Miss Amy Shetwin, assisted by Miss Minns Fischer, Mr George Clutsam and several amatours. The first of the two performances takes place to morrow and the other on Thursday. The programme has not yet been augounced, but from what the Hongkong public know of Miss Sherwin's abilities and those of Miss Fischer and Mr. Clussen, a genuine musical treat may be looked forward to ou each occasion. The other artistes who accompanied Miss pleted their engagements and gone elsewhere, but Miss Sherwin is a host in her. self, and with the amistance of Miss Fischer, who was deservedly very popular here, the attractions ought to be sufficiently strong to draw good houses, notwithstand. ing that the weather is not of the most favourable kind for concert giving.

Warres the Broad Arrow :- It can scarcely be with the consent of Dr Elgar, or at all events at his instance, that Mr Gowings is now to be sent to Hong Kong. Such an appointment may perhaps be styled a promotion, but it will not be contemplated in that light by any active officer who has distinguished himself by energy and skill in a home dockyard. Hong Kong dockyard offers very little scope for the exercise of those faculties which have borne such fruit in the building of the Vulcan. When an officer shows himself competent to push on work with desputch it would appear to be the best thing to keep him at it.

LORD Salisbury has at length, says a Dublin correspondent, entered a defence to the action which Mr William O'Brien, M.P., has brought against him for alleged libel and slander. The Prime Minister had theusual eight days to file the defence. He applied for, and got, an extension of fourteen days. At the end of the time he applied for another extension of fourteen days, but the Court granted him only seven days. On the evening of the last possible day a defence is entered which, if that form of practice known as demurrer were not abolished in England, would be immediately demorred to. The statement of claim is substantially one short averment pluning Lord Salisbury to a particular statement. The defence is not a simple traverse of the averment. There is a denial of the all pation in the claim, and the defendant says his speach was bond side, and a fair comment-upon plaintiff's conduot, speeches, and writings.

FIERCE PARTY ANIMOSITY IN FRANCE -DIS-GRACEFUL SCENES. Paris, 25th June.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day became again the theatre of violence and disorder when M. Laguerre, Boulangist Deputy, sought to introduce an interpellation calling attention to the violation, by the Government, of the rights of parliamentary immunity at the arrests of Augouleme, of the Chamber, but he suggested that it would be advisable to defer consideration of the interpellation until Friday. An exciting debate ensued. in the course of which M. Montejau denounced the interpellation and warned the Republicans that they were falling into a pit dug for them by their own enemies. At this Deputy Lejoune, at the top of his voice shouted Canaille! A great uproar followed, and very soon the Chamber was utterly bereft of all semblance of order, From frantically howling at one another, the Deputies began to shake their fiets at each other and when even this safety valve. On Berlin, for escape of their pent-up wrath became insufficient, scuffles ensued, and in several cases the Deputies paired off to have it out with their fists. The combatants were inc no wise restrained by conventional rules. for the government of fistic encounters, and so they not only, punched one another's heads but where the nature of the case seemed to favour such a course, hair and beards were pulled and fac a scratched up. Thisscene lasted fully ten minutes, and even after order was partially restored in one part of the Chamber ushers had to be deapatched to another part to separate other compatants more persistent than the rest. When, finally, all the Deputies had resumed their seats, Lejeune, whose exclamation had precipitated the disgraceful scene. apologised for his language. He was, nevertbeless, consured by the Chamber and excluded, after which the consideration of the interpellation was postponed until

Paris, 23rd June.—A pitched battle was fought to day at Bezieres, between the party of Boulangists and a number of supporters of the Government. The rival parties met in the streets after each had he'd a meeting of their adherents. After casting opprobrious epithets at one another for a while they came to blows. Sticks and stones were freely used and many battered heads resulted. M. Deroulede, Boulangist Loudon, 20th June .- The Boula gist deputy, Lagacru, made a speech at St. Audrew's Hall here to day at a meeting to arrange for a banquet on July 14th. Frenchmen of all shades of political opinion were present, and the utmost disorder prevailed, developing at one time into a free fight. M. Lagacru called for half an hour before it was possible to hear a single word he attered, when he finally secured some attention. He spoke for an hour with frequent interruptions. A committee to arrange for a banquet was appointed, but only those present on the platform with London, June 24.—The members of the Lagacru were allowed to have a voice in its
